North Carolina alone has one thomand and minety school houses for her colored children, which were built at a cost of ninety-five thousand, four hundred and saventy-sight deliars. She has one thousand ning hundred colored schools with an attendance of one hundred thousand, four hundred and five pupils. Given the school and the schoolmaster, not much longer will the colored race be a more political force to be controlled and uses for estrengthening the power of the Southern Democracy. It will become an element in the body politic that will be self-assertive and bold in the defense of its constitutional rights. There can be no power so encossfully introduced in the South for the protection of the colored man in his rights of citizenship as the system of free public schools. They will make of hum an intelligent, thanking, law-abding citizen, yet they will give him a moral force that will make him resent unjust interference with his rights, and lead him to stand boldly in their defense. The schoolmaster is the best political missionary to smploy in reconciling the substance of schools most throughout the South and institute in them thorough and liberal sources of Southern Prejudice will be fore many years become a thing of the past.
